Colorado's restaurant industry

the area and serve alcohol beverages to the diners in area, (as long as) the licensee's premises are within 1,000 feet of the area."

SB21-035, also pending, would protect restaurants by "prohibiting a third-party food delivery service (GrubHub, DoorDash, UberEats) from taking and arranging for delivery or pickup of an order from a retail food establishment without the establishment's consent."

The other issue that Steinemann said is crucial for the survival of restaurants is that the state backfill the state unemployment trust fund with federal stimulus dollars. She said, "This must happen...The fund is completely insolvent. Without the state moving to backfill the fund, rates will increase. We are already hearing some restaurants report that their rates have increased by $4,000 a month."

The industry would also like to see Colorado create a state version of the Restaurant Revitalization Fund that was part of the American Rescue Plan Act signed into law in March because the federal program did not have enough money to solve the problem in this state.

Steinemann described several possible programs that the state could create and fund to support the restaurant industry:

1. Employee hiring and retention bonuses
2. A media public awareness campaign about the benefits of a career in the restaurant industry
3. Gift cards to restaurants as incentives for people to get vaccinated
4. Buy-one-get-one-free or free beverages or desserts to anyone who can prove they've been vaccinated.

Steinemann wanted to make sure people remember that, "Colorado will remain a leader in culinary innovation."

The last subject raised was the impact of the millions of dollars of CARES Act money on the restaurant industry. Arapahoe County Commissioner Carrie Warren-Gully asked Steinemann if that money served the purpose for which it was intended. Steinemann said that oftentimes, the criteria were too restrictive for some businesses to take advantage of, but noted that, "that is the nature of government programs."

Herz added the observation that, "Not everyone did the right thing with that (CARES Act) money. It will be interesting to see if those programs ever get audited by anyone."

Why I Write Articles For You! My Story

My purpose for writing you in The Villager started in 1975 (age 24), after reading in an Herb book that juice from crushed Yarrow leaves stops bleeding wounds, instantly! The next weekend, on outing with a church friend and her 3-year-old, little Amy suddenly screamed! Having fallen on a rock, her knee was bleeding! As we rushed to her, I was crushing Yarrow leaves between my fingers and then applied the juice to her knee. The bleeding stopped instantly! Her mother and I looked at each other in "Awe!" Amy stopped crying.

the fact that the original purpose for medical treatments (Drugs and Surgery) was "only" for life and death emergencies, or whenever a bone needed casted or a wound sutured.

Instead, today, drugs are more frequently used to suppress the symptoms of nutritional deficiencies and toxicity resulting from American diets, lifestyles and pollution. (Pollution from chemicals, metals, and other toxins, ingested or exposed to in food, water, air and environment.)

Pivot Point of My Life!

That was the pivot point in my youth -- discovering God gave us plants for medicine! (In fact, all pharmaceuticals originated from herbs and plants until scientists learned how to make "patentable" synthetic drugs.)

Now, with a fervent interest, I studied Herbs and any related "Health Care" subject, which led to three degrees (two doctorates), and becoming board certified, so I could coach others in living healthier and help them heal, maintain optimal health and prevent disease. And doing this with God's original medicines that now includes 21st Century "Advanced Clinical Nutrition" research; hence my company's name.

My Mission in Life!

Winston Churchill's quote "Healthy Citizens are the Greatest Assets Any Country Can Have!" (1943) became my mission statement, made me wonder why America ranked so low in the Healthiest Countries List, and set me on a path to find the answer.

Original Purpose for Medicine

The answer, I found, was that Americans were uneducated in Health Care also means non-drug Therapies. For example: Through a Clinical Nutrition Analysis of your biochemistry, asymptomatic and symptomatic causes of current biochemical processes "towards" disease are identified.

So rather than just medically detect the disease earlier, this gives you the opportunity to correct the causes and prevent the disease from even happening. Also, those with diagnosed diseases have the potential to reverse their disease processes and restore health and/or, at least, significantly improve their current state of health and slow these processes down, if the latter started CN Therapy too late to fully restore their health.

In my 40's, a Clinical Nutrition Analysis revealed I was in the process of developing Lupus; though asymptomatic. Four months later, that disease process was gone.

I am writing you because I want to share over 47 years of study and clinical experience successfully helping my clients. I also want to be a trusted and reliable resource for you to accomplish your goal of living healthier and longer.

I write so you know there are healthier and safer options, than drugs and surgery, that actually get to the root causes of your health challenges, rather than just suppress your symptoms and manage your disease. In fact, you are not a fully informed patient, if you are only aware of your medical options. Remember...

"There is No Cure" often just means... "Drugs and Surgery" Will Not Cure It!

"Health Care" should mean promoting Health, not managing Disease. A true "Health Care" System promotes principle-centered healthy lifestyles, unpolluted environments and disease prevention in all educational systems. (Principle-centered means living according to the biological, biochemical and bioenergetic laws or principles that govern the healthy function of the body and its environment.)
